Raphael F. Macioce - BBK Southfield

Raphael works with BBK's clients to positively impact the bottom line through forecasting and budgeting, implementing cost saving initiatives, standardizing financial and operational processes, and analyzing investments and opportunities. He is a results-oriented financial professional with 20 years of experience in the manufacturing and automotive industries.

Professional Experience

Prior to BBK, Raphael was Group Controller at Meridian Automotive Systems where he was responsible for the financial oversight of nine plants with combined revenue of $450 million. He worked to ensure that both financial and operational performance met company targets. This included driving cost savings initiatives, improving quoting accuracy, and performing in-depth statement reviews with each Plant Manager and Controller.

As Group Controller of Ferrous Metals at Internet Corporation, Raphael was responsible for the financial oversight of a $500 million division. He performed in-depth financial statement reviews, ensured plant compliance with corporate policies, hired and trained new personnel, and worked closely with internal and external auditors. He also coordinated all forecasting activities, reported monthly P&L results, quoted new and existing business, applied Lean manufacturing and 5S principals at all plants, and coordinated the annual budget process.

Among other positions, Raphael was also the Manager of Cost & Budgets at Internet Corporation, Senior Cost Accountant at Hayes-Lemmerz Southfield Machining Plant, and Director of Corporate Compliance and Cost at CMI-International, Inc.
